Re: NWT Broadband Initiative - KatloTech Communications

To Whom It May Concern,

The Smart Communities Society, a registered NWT community non-profit organization, is in full support of the efforts of KatloTech Communications and its founder, Lyle Fabian, to bring sorely needed Indigenous-owned broadband infrastructure and data centres to the NWT.

Lyle is working hard to provide a robust alternative to the status quo, as currently our smaller Indigenous NWT communities have little to no real access to the broadband technology that other Canadians take for granted.

We applaud and strongly support his efforts and look forward to the increased access to technology and extensive economic opportunities this project can provide for our territory.

Sincerely,
